

SUD in Pregnancy ECHO Program

Spring 2025 Cohort

Join us as we launch the Spring 2025 Cohort!
Our program will run for 8 weeks online.
The focus is on substance use disorders (SUD), especially opioid use disorder, in pregnant and recently pregnant persons.

Learners will hear about:

- New Mexico prenatal SUD epidemiology with a focus on opioid use disorder (OUD)
- SUD stigma towards pregnant and parenting persons and destigmatizing language
- Alcohol use disorder in pregnancy
- Prenatal SUD treatment options

Our goal is to increase the number of providers who screen for and diagnose SUD, though we invite anyone working with pregnant people experiencing SUD to join!

Register in iECHO

*Please email us should you need assistance with registration.
We are happy to help and look forward to seeing you!*

Email: SUDinPregnancyECHO@salud.unm.edu

Webpage

Launch date:
Wednesday, April 2nd
Noon-1 p.m. MDT

TARGET AUDIENCE INCLUDES:

- Primary Care Physicians and Assistants
- Nurses
- Doulas and Birth Workers
- Social Workers
- Pharmacists/Technicians
- Psychologists
- Certified and Licensed Nurse Midwives